

The image features four decorative flourishes, one in each corner, consisting of curved lines that end in small loops. These flourishes frame the central text.

Shame