

Washing hands can significantly reduce the spread of infection. Wash hands with soap & water or use anti-bacterial rinse jell, before entering and upon leaving the patient's room.