

When a couple gets married,
each of them has found the love of their life.

When that couple has a baby,
they have found someone to love for life.

