

A word cloud of the word "WAR" in various sizes and orientations, arranged to form the geographical shape of the United States. The word is repeated many times, with larger instances forming the main body and smaller ones filling in the details.

A word cloud of the word "WAR" in various sizes and orientations, arranged to form the geographical shape of the African continent. The word is repeated many times, with larger instances forming the main body and smaller ones filling in the details.

A word cloud of the word "WAR" in various sizes and orientations, arranged to form the geographical shape of South America. The word is repeated many times, with larger instances forming the main body and smaller ones filling in the details.

A word cloud of the word "WAR" in various sizes and orientations, arranged to form the geographical shape of Europe. The word is repeated many times, with larger instances forming the main body and smaller ones filling in the details.

A word cloud of the word "WAR" in various sizes and orientations, arranged to form the geographical shape of Asia. The word is repeated many times, with larger instances forming the main body and smaller ones filling in the details.