

Spare time

(spɛə taɪm)

(noun)

A luxury enjoyed by others

In capitalist society spare time is acquired for one class by converting the whole lifetime of the masses into labour-time

Karl Marx