

I found a hungry stray cat
Whose fur was black and white,
I showed him to my mother
And she acted full of fright.
I told her I would bathe him
I admitted that he stunk,
Then I discovered why he smelled
He really was a skunk!

One cow uddered to another,
"You've got an attitude."
The other cow replied and said,
"I'm just in a bad mooood!"

