

For I consider that the sufferings of the present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that is about to be revealed to us.