

The happiest
people don't have the best of everything,
they just make
the best of everything
they have.